CATTLE INCREASE.

In no previous period that we know of have cattle so rapidly increased in the Plate as within the last two or three years. Already it is estimated that in this province we have nine millions of cows; and, at the rate we are marching along, starting new cattle estancias in every direction, we believe that before General Roca's term of office expires we shall have over 15 millions of cows in this province, not to speak of the increase in Santa Fe, Cordoba, Entre Rios and Corrientes.

Many of our countrymen who bought some of the outside lands cheap, and who considered the best use to put those lands to was to stock them, find now that they are beginning to have too much stock for their lands. We know of one English estanciero who, not two years ago, put 3,000 picked cows on his estancia 9 de Julio, three square leagues; he has to-day over 6,000 cows, and before the year is out he will have close on 9,000, which is too heavy a stock for his land, and he must either sell the cows or buy more land.

We know another very large landed proprietor—one of our wealthiest fellow-countrymen—who states that with all his land and with all his capital and credit, he is pinched to find land for his increasing stock each year; and he must sell off 10,000 cows and perhaps over 100,000 sheep, in order to keep down his stock; either that or keep on buying 20 leagues of land every year.

Perhaps in no part have the stocks of cows and sheep increased more rapidly than in the Valley of the Rio Negro, where an attempt is now being made to open a market across the mountains with Chile, which we trust will succeed, as sheep that two years ago were selling at 45 and 50 m/c 'al corte' are to-day to be had at 18 to 20 m/c 'al corte.'

Camps that since the year 1832 were thrown up by the settlers and held by the Indians are now well-stocked estancias; and if the conveniences for starting estancias were greater, and expenses less, hundreds of leagues of splendid cattle lands would be stocked and settled on this year.

This large addition that, year after year, is now being made to our producing power must soon produce a most favourable effect, not only on business but on the country in general, as the full results of such a splendid expansion of our sheep and cattle trade need some time to show results.

We should like to be able to give our readers exact statistics as to the number of leagues of new land stocked and settled on within the last two years. Could we reach the figures, they would make River Plate pessimists stare.

NATIONAL BANK MEETING.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTING COMMITTEE.

Yesterday the meeting of the Shareholders of the National Bank was held in the back 'patio' of the Bank. The chairs lined the whole court-yard, and the attendance was both representative and good. The Report of the Committee was the business of the meeting; it was read and adopted "nem con," and all the suggestions of the committee fully and unanimously adopted. The whole business did not last half an hour, and the dividend proposed, six per cent, was adopted and carried. The following is the Report:—

Messrs. Shareholders:

The undersigned, named with Don Saturnino Unzue, as special committee, to audit the accounts of the Bank presented by the Directors in the Balance-sheet for the year 1883, in obedience to Articles 68 and 69 of the Bye-laws, have examined same without the assistance of Mr. Unzue, who resigned. The inspection was necessarily short owing to only 10 days allowed, and the business of 162 clerks to be reported on; nevertheless it was sufficient to show the committee to its entire satisfaction the very able management of the Bank by the Board, of the competancy of the Bank's staff and of the method and exactness of the accounts. It is unnecessary to go into details owing to the already published able and laborious Report of the Board, all whose figures and appreciations are ratified as correct.

Discounts.—This was the chief subject that attracted the attention of the committee, also advances in account current, which they find to stand so—

Bills in Central House.......		11,305,700
Do Branches....		4,492,300
		15,798,000
Account current Central House	1,211,000
Do Branches....	15,377,000	16,588,000
		32,386,000

In view of the credit facilities usual in this market, the discounts &c., have been prudent, and advances made only to responsible parties, as is proved by the few bad debts. The credits in account current have been advanced chiefly in the Provinces to good men, and when passing $20,000 m/n., have been granted here and with guarantees, and the heaviest advances have been to sugar factories and such establishments, being mortgaged in guarantee.

Advances in account current is the custom of trade in the Provinces, where dealers refuse to sign 'pagarés' or 'letras.' In Rosario they only discount 'conformes,' and even in this market where Importers have agreed to sell only on 'pagarès.' Very much business is done with the camp without any 'pagarès' whatever being signed.

The sums granted in discounts of bills and in account current in the central house reach 12,516,000 and are divided amongst 3,219 debtors—and in branches to 19,869,700 between 6,653 debtors—and in our inspection of the books we found everything correct and exact.

Protested Bills—We have revised with care the general debtors' account, the amount of which has been increased to 232,000 dollars, 199,000 being passed to the Profit and Loss account, amount at present in the Balance being 472,000. Of this amount 333,000 belongs to the head office and is distributed amongst 312 debtors, and 19,000 to the branches distributed amongt 60. The deductions made by the Directors in the classification of the bills have been carried out with exactitude; all the bad debts being deducted in the Head Office, as also those which the Directors of the Branches may consider so, though without a doubt some of them will be paid.

To guarantee this amount it is laid down in the statutes, that the Bank keeps a reserve fund equal to the 3rd. part of the sum total of these debts, and this reserve fund not only exceeds said sum but a provisional fund has also been formed amounting to $77,000 m/n.

General expenses and salaries—These items have been greatly cut down, in a relative proportion with those of last year.

In 1882 the staff of the National Bank numbered 103. Its operations amounted to 493,000,000 fuertes and its profits to 826,600; the expenses and salaries being 249,100; that is to say, 0.50. per cent on the general receipts and 3.01 on the profits. In 1883 the staff was increased in number to 162, the general receipts amounting to $1,152,900,000m/n and the net profits to $1,481,800; the expenses and salaries being $340,200m/n, so that it only represented 0.29 per cent. on the general receipts and 2.29 per cent on the net profits.

Cash in hand and circulation—$6,500,000m/n which the bank has in gold and silver and the balance $3,000,000 m/n, more or less, in gold in Europe on the National Bonds deposited there, as also $34,000,000 amount of credits in its favour and $4,200,000 due by the shareholders are amply sufficient to guarantee its circulation of 15,000,000 notes, and 11,900,000 deposits at sight, that is to say, that it has $47,700,000 m/n to meet $26,900,000m/n.

Stocks and Assets—These items represented by properties, Cedulas and different shares which the Bank holds are set down at $304,000 m/n, being an increase on these of last year of $83,000 m/n, these being valued at their marketable value; and as property and the greater part of the stocks have gone up in price since last year, these items have greatly increased in value. Of this sum 153,000 belongs to the Head Office, of which $50,000 m/n has been sold though the value has not yet been received, and $151,000 to the branches, the greater part of which is represented by houses belonging to the bank where many of the branches have been established.

Materials for emission, furniture, etc.—The emission materials figure for $110,000, and increase of 18,000 on the previous year; and the office and other furniture, etc, for $125,000, against $113,800 for 1882, showing a slight increase in spite of the deductions made every year for new branches and agencies.

Deposits—Deposits at interest show $11,600,000 from 7,005 depositors, of which amount $6,253,608 belongs to 4,384 depositors at the Head Office, and $5,431,000 to 2,621 depositors in the branches.

Savings Bank—In 1882 these deposits were $210,000, and now $385,000, a slight increase. It would be advisable, for the interests of the bank, the poorer classes and the country at large to develop this account.

To effect this, we would advise the Bank to keep open the Head Office and branches up to noon on Sundays and holidays, so that labouring men, who have no time during the week, could lodge their savings. The Mauá Bank did this formerly, and had an extraordinary number of depositors.

Hypothecary Section.—A Section of this kind would be of great use to the Bank, as it would concentrate its operations of this kind, which now amount to $4,000,000. It would also fill a great void in the Provinces, where pastoral and agricultural credit is as yet unknown, though so urgently required. The Hypothecary Bank of B. Aires has mobilized over 18 millions of capital in that province alone, and, in a few years, a much larger sum will certainly be required for the other provinces, the value of whose lands increases with the extension of our railways, which will soon reach the confines of the Republic.

The plan proposed is to create Public Bonds for these loans, a better way than issuing another kind of Cedula.

Directors' Remuneration.—Art. 63 of the Statutes allows $3000 monthly to the Board, $700 for the Chairman and the balance between the 8 Directors, according as they attend. These salaries are not 'en rapport' with the importance of the Bank, the responsibility assumed, or the position of those they are paid to. It must be borne in mind that this Bank is destined to be the first in the Republic, and that it has large daily transactions with the provinces that require constant attention. The Managers of those private banks that do nothing like the business of the National Bank are paid $1000 monthly, and some have even a share in the profits. The Committee therefore propose that the salaries be a total of $3,800 monthly, $1000 for the Chairman and the rest to divided amongst the Board, in a way we shall afterwards suggest.

The undersigned conclude by asking for a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Board for their devotion to the interests of the Bank during the past year. Their labours and the development of the country have placed the Bank in a position to earn larger profits henceforward, while forwarding the aggrandizement and well-being of the Republic and its people.

For the foregoing reasons, we propose to the meeting

1st—To approve the Accounts of 1883.

2nd—To pay a 6 per cent dividend (making 9 per cent for the year) as the Board proposes.

3rd—That Art. 53 of the Statutes be reformed so:

"The Director's salaries shall be $3000 monthly, $1000 to the Chairman and $2200 to the eight Directors to be paid according to their attendance at each meeting of the Board and for each day that they are on weekly duty, for which certificate will be given, but no Director shall receive certificate for more than one day's assistance, whether he be on weekly duty or not. At the end of each month each Director will be paid according to the certificates he holds.

THE LAND BUSINESS.

People who are astonished at all that has been going on in estancia land business in the Plate for the last three years would do well to study the following figures, which show what is doing in the land business in the United States.

Our lands are completely in their infancy, and until the large tracts are cut up into farms for agricultural colonists, River Plate lands will not be available for the starving millions of Europe, who are the real tillers of the soil.

Twenty years hence our lands will doubtless be selling in acres, not leagues; but we want the flow of emigration to come on us in a tidal wave to effect this. That it will come, none can doubt.

The following are the American figures we refer to:—

"The Extension of Agriculture in the United States.—With what rapidity the land of the United States is being taken up the following statement, giving the extent of public land sales in each of the past six years, will show:—

Year.	Acres Sold.
1883	16,830,455
1882	12,526,262
1881	8,379,518
1880	9,090,495
1879	8,649,259
1878	6,855,781

And from the following table, showing how the sales in 1883 were distributed, it will be seen how strongly the current of population is setting westward:—

	Acres.
Dakota	6,689,595
Nebraska	1,315,104
Minnesota	1,292,969
Kansas	808,655
Washington Territory	763,779
California	704,274
Mississippi	516,511
Oregon	499,779
Louisiana	487,509
Arkansas	460,656
Wisconsin	454,002
Florida	434,749

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND LA PLATA.

The definite adoption of the Electric Light as the future illuminant of that truly wonderful city La Plata is an event which we think deserves more than a casual notice.

Already the magnificent lamps of the Brush system, raised on temporary wooden towers one hundred feet high, are nightly doing their work of illuminating over a square mile of the rising city.

The yearly finished public buildings in all their grand vastness, the hundreds of workmen's tents, the myriads of bricks, the tons of building material, and the 500 private houses that already are finished or in course of construction, present a curious and novel scene under the rays of these eight artificial suns. So well diffused is the light, and so powerful the lamps that all the work of carting and handing material could be carried on at night within a radius of more than 1000 yards from the central tower. These wooden towers, however, are only temporary, they have done their work of demonstrating the advantage of powerful electric lamps placed at high altitudes, but they must now give place to permanent structures, the first of which has just arrived. It is an elegant iron tower of delicate construction, made from gas piping, 150 feet high from the ground, and will sustain four of these powerful lamps, of 4000 candle power each, on its summit. This will stand in the central plaza.

No doubt was ever entertained from the night of the inauguration in regard to what the final result would be of the trial, and as soon as sufficient time had been allowed for careful investigations to be carried on by the government engineers and technical men, who were summoned to examine the apparatus and test the whole plant by thorough experiments, the order was given for the permanent adoption of the system.

Two Government electricians have been appointed whose special duty it will be to attend to the electric plant, and all the further machinery and lamps they will require for illuminating a city of 30,000 inhabitants has been ordered from the U. States.

We have pleasure therefore in chronicling this the first permanent and definite adoption of the electric light in the Argentine Republic. We mark it as the commencement of a new departure in public lighting. We foresee all the more important cities of the various provinces sending deputations to La Plata to report upon the Electric light there, with the object of adopting it themselves, and we trust this example of the precious new Capital will not be lost upon our own Municipales here.

We offer our congratulations to the agents of the Brush Company, who after so long a time of patient work have gained such marked success as the first result of their perseverance. Unless we are much mistaken it will lead to much larger and important business, at all events it gives their Company a sure foothold in this country.

C. W. STEVENS.

A great misfortune has befallen our National Observatory at Cordoba. Chalmers W. Stevens, a young man of great promise, one of the most valuable assistants of Dr. Gould, was struck by lightning on the morning of the 16th inst. and killed instantaneously. The news spread rapidly through the city, causing deep sorrow among the many friends whom his sterling worth and genial temperament had gained for him during a residence of nearly five years.

By birth a citizen of Claremont, N.H., United States, he early fitted himself by hard study under many disadvantages, for a leading place in his profession as an engineer, and since joining the staff of the Observatory in 1879, had particularly distinguished himself by mechanical skill. Important improvements of his in the anemomoter and in automatic thermometers, are already recognised by European scientists as most valuable additions to the appliances of meteorology.

On Sunday morning at eight o'clock some three score of his friends met at the house of Dr. Gould. The inner patio, which is roofed in and separated from the garden by flowers and creeping plants, formed a mortuary chapel, where the coffin, covered with wreaths of flowers and ever-greens, rested on tressels. The first part of the English burial service was read by Mr. Tyerman, the English chaplain, and concluded with the hymn

"Brief life is here our portion."

The coffin lid was then removed and the assembly passed round to take a last look on those features which they had known instinct with life, health and hearty good-will. After which the coffin, covered as before, was carried to the hearse, and conveyed to the Protestant Cemetery. Here the rest of the burial service was read, the body was lowered into the grave, and after the concluding prayer, the assembly joined in the hymn

"Thy will be done."

Dr. Gould, in a voice much broken by emotion, spoke a few words of tribute to the deceased, characterizing him as one who to a manly frame and intellect joined a manly soul, and who to untiring diligence in his profession added a friendly disposition and a blameless life.

These words found warm echo in the hearts of those present, who though of many nations, Americans, Argentines, English, Germans, Danes, French and Italians, were all united in one common sorrow for the untimely loss of one whose brotherly love knew no distinction among men, of race or language, when there was any call upon him for aid or sympathy.

In his own country Mr. Stevens left behind him an aged father and step-mother who loved him as though he were her own son. Having almost completed a five years term, he had recently obtained leave of absence for the purpose of visiting them during the present year. They never will see him more in this world, but it may be of some consolation to them in their sorrow, that they have deep sympathy with them in their loss, from all who knew him during his residence in South America. He was the life of his comrades at the Observatory, and his death has brought sorrow into many a circle, where the remembrance of his social talents and kindly heart will for many years keep his memory green.

SANTA FE SIXTY YEARS AGO.

Sir Francis Head, The Pampas and the Andes

Province of Santa Fé to be described—its wild, desolate appearance—has been so constantly ravaged by the Pampas Indians, that there are now no cattle in the whole province, and people are afraid to live there. On the right and left of the road, and distant thirty and forty miles, one occasionally sees the remains of a little hut which has been burnt by the Indians, and as one gallops along, the Gaucho relates how many people were murdered in each, how many infants slaughtered—and whether the women were killed or carried away. The old post-huts are also burnt—new ones have been built by the side of the ruins, but the rough plan of their construction shews the insecurity of their tenure. These huts are occupied only by men, who are themselves generally robbers, but in a few instances their families are living with them. When one thinks of the dreadful fate which has befallen so many poor families in this province, and that any moment may bring the Indians again among them, it is really shocking to see women living in such a dreadful situation—to fancy that they should be so blind, and so heedless of experience;—and it is distressing to see a number of innocent little children playing about the door of a hut, in which they may be all massacred, unconscious of the fate that may await them, or of the blood-thirsty, vindictive passions of man.

We were in the centre of this dreary country—I always rode for a few stages in the morning, and I was with a young Gaucho of about fifteen years of age, who had been born in the province—his father and mother had been murdered by the Indians—he had been saved by a man who had galloped away with him, but he was then an infant, and remembered nothing of it. We passed the ruins of a hut which he said had belonged to his aunt—he said that, about two years ago, he was at that hut with his aunt and three of his cousins, who were young men—that while they were conversing together a boy galloped by from the other post, and in passing the door screamed out, "Los Indios! los Indios!"—that he ran to the door, and saw them galloping towards the hut without hats, all naked, armed with long lances, striking their mouths with their bridle hands, and uttering a shriek which he described as making the earth tremble—he said that there were two horses outside the hut, bridled, but not saddled—that he leapt upon the back of one and galloped away—that one of the young men jumped on the other, and followed him about twenty yards, but that then he said something about his mother, and rode back to the hut—that just as he got there the Indians surrounded the hut, and that the last time he saw his cousins they were standing at the door with their knives in their hands—that several of the Indians galloped after him, and followed him more than a mile, but that he was upon a horse which was "muy ligero, (very swift) muy ligero," said the boy; and as we galloped along he loosened his rein, and darting on before me, smiled at shewing me the manner in which he escaped, and then curbing his horse to a hand-gallop, continued his history.

He said that when the Indians found he was getting away from them, they turned back—that he escaped, and that when the Indians had left the province, which was two days after, he returned to the hut. He found it burnt, and saw his aunt's tongue sticking on one of the stakes of the corral; her body was in the hut; one of her feet was cut off at the ancle, and she had apparently bled to death. The three sons were outside the door naked, their bodies were covered with wounds, and their arms were gashed to the bone, by a series of cuts about an inch from each other, from the shoulder to the wrist.

The boy then left me at the next post, and I got into the carriage—the day getting hot, and the stage twenty-four miles. After galloping about an hour, I saw a large cloud of smoke on the horizon before me; and as the Indians often burn the grass when they enter the country, I asked Pizarro what it was? He replied, "Quien sabe,—Senor what it may be;" however, on we galloped.

I took little notice of it, and began to think of the dreadful story the boy had told me, and of many similar ones which I had heard; for I had always endeavoured to get at the history of the huts which were burnt, although I always found that the Gauchos thought very little about it; and that the story was sometimes altogether in oblivion, before time had crumbled into dust the tottering mud walls which were the monuments of such dreadful cruelties.

It appears that the Pampas Indians, who, in spite of their ferocity, are a very brave and handsome race of men, occasionally invade "los Cristianos," as the Gauchos always term themselves, for two objects—to steal cattle, and for the pleasure of murdering the people; and that they will even leave the cattle to massacre their enemies.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

MR. HENRY GEORGE AND THE LONDON PRESS.

The grand apostle of Land Nationalisation has fairly commenced his propaganda. He has been invited by one of the Land Reform Association, in England to lecture on the subject, and last night, at St. James's Hall, he opened the campaign in a speech of an hour's duration. to a crowded and enthusiastic meeting. The chair was taken by Mr. Labouchere, who, in introducing the American guest, took occasion to observe that he himself was not yet a convert to Mr. George's opinions, but he wished the question to be fully and honestly discussed.

On the platform were Mr. Michael Davitt, Mr. Morris, author of "The Earthly Paradise," Professor Wallace, Mr. Frederick Harrison, the Rev. S.D. Headlam, the Rev. C. W. Stubbs, the Hon. and Rev. A. Lytton, Mr. H. Hyndman and other gentlemen of note.

Mr. George, whom Mr. Labouchere humorously called George V., and the only one of our Georges likely to benefit mankind, was vociferously cheered on rising to speak, and listened to with marked attention. His speech fills more than two closely-printed columns of the morning papers. I cannot, therefore, attempt an epitome, nor would that, in any case, be my object. I would endeavour in future rather to follow, for your information, the opinions of the English press on the subject of land Nationalisation, now that it has got beyond the stage at which people will not have to condescend to notice it, but will be obliged to notice it. The interests it affects have hitherto been so omnipotent in this country, the prejudices it runs counter to, are so strongly engrained in our political and social ideas, the talents, Liberal as well as Conservative, and scientific as well as literary, that will be employed in contesting Mr. George's principles are so formidable, that unless they contain a deep substratum of truth, the movement now organised in their support, cannot exist six months amongst a people slow to adopt theories of any kind, and quick in seizing the element of impracticability in all. There is this to be said, and it already has been said, that Mr. George enters on his campaign at a most favourable juncture, when, since the discussion of the Irish Land Act, the distress amongst English farmers occasioned by a series of bad harvests, the agitation amongst the Highland crofters and the general dissolution of the views of our immediate predecessors, on various and serious questions, have prepared public opinion, if not for the reception, at least for the fair investigation, of the most extreme notions in sociology as in other branches of thought. As for Mr. George's initiary speech, I confess, it was disappointing. Here and there it blazed in a glow of eloquence, or shone forth in a Baconian passage, reminding one of the style of "Progress and Poverty;" but the facts he brought forward were neither new nor convincing—the illustrations were commonplace—and the whole tone of his address was too much on a level with American stump or meeting-house oratory, to suit the fastidious taste of a cultivated English audience; and, it must be remembered, that he has with him already the interested sympathies of the poor and needy, and that in this country his mission is really to the rich and better educated, who have either to unlearn what is obsolete, or by him be still more strengthened in their prejudices in favour of the social system now ruling. To the great offence of our friends in Ireland, who have already disowned him, Mr. George, before he had been twelve hours in London was pleased to say that the Irish were like chips, but that the English were like coal, difficult to ignite, but, when once ignited, if it smouldered long, it burned continuously. That may be so, and Mr. George will find that the carboniferous stratum is so low and so cold, that the truth of his doctrines, if they contain truth at all, must be palpably incandescent, or he will return to America without leaving in the old country one puff of smoke or a trace of fire.

Mr. George's proposition is to expropriate the land without compensation to the present nominal owners. He has already been met by two classes of objectors, those who disapprove of expropriation, under any conditions, and those who are willing to listen, at least, to the proposal to expropriate, but will not tolerate what they term theft. As the most cultivated organ of English Radicalism says:—"We have no objection to Socialism. but it must be Socialism plus the Ten Commandments." Mr. George calls the compensation given to West Indian slave-owners by the British Government a "political crime." This piece of hard logic, fortified by the fact that in the United States slavery was abolished without compensation, and that otherwise it could not have been abolished at all, is at present incomprehensible even to more advanced minds in England, such as the minds of our literary, philosophico-political friend in the Pall-Mall Gazette. But, as Mr. George proceeds in his crusade, and like many thinkers who have at first failed in viva voce exposition, improves in the art of lecturing, and when these matters are more fearlessly dissected—that exceedingly tough crust in which advanced thought in England is wrapped—a trust thought to consist mainly of the Ten Commandmente and high moral principle, but largely alloyed with narrow self-sufficiency and hypocrisy, may prove creviced and suddenly disclose unknown fires. The question of compensation, apart from either the cant of Mr. George or of the cant of his opponents concerning morality is a very simple one. Once it be proved that the Nationalisation of the land will produce even a tithe of the benefits its supporters promise to the majority by its adoption, the minority who now hold land can be compensated to the extent that may be practicable, and beyond that there is no further question, for a benevolent man, like Mr. George, will not willingly turn Dukes and Marquesses, and their litters into the lanes and fields to starve, as they in their turn have evicted poor Irish, English and Scotch families; nor, on the other hand, could highly moral people, who profess to abide by the law and the prophets, see the wretchedness that exists, and fail to approve the sacrifice of the luxuries of a few thousand for the moral and material elevation of millions. On such partial sacrifice, and even injustice, on such compromises. war, law, the restraints of domestic virtue, Government itself is founded. At present Mr. George and his antagonists are only sparring. They do not say exactly what they mean, or, what amounts to the same thing they say more. Professor Wallace who was on the same platform with Mr. George differs from him on the subject of compensation. But George rightly enough wishes to put his case in the first instance clearly without modifications; and he knows, not only as all know, the impossibility of full compensation, but he dreads the delay and the jobbery and robbery which compensation in any form entails, as in the instance of compensation to land-owners in the early days of railway enterprise when the famed "English gentleman" did a good business, and with a meanness and chicanery that not even the sycophancy of English historians can conceal. Beyond the question of compensation the Radical papers like the Pall Mall Gazette of this evening are willing enough that Mr. George's scheme should be tried on a small scale even in England by the municipalities; and following the political economists, even Fawcett, the Pall Mall Gazette again acknowledges that in new countries the expropriation of the land by the State may be a wise measure; and for the present your contemporary is rather inclined to wait and see the result of the experiment now actually in operation in New Zealand. I have dwelt specially on the opinions of the Pall Mall Gazette because it approaches nearest to those of Mr. George generally, and is at least above the more vulgar prejudices of ordinary Englishmen, whose sentiments are irritated by more reasons, such as Socialism or Radicalism, or whatever the bugbear may be. The next in order of intellectuality is the Anglo-Scottish prig, the Daily News. It is an exceedingly clever and reliable Radical paper, but sadly afraid of its library chairs being contaminated, and its choice editions of books being fingered and soiled by unwashed Radicalism. The News thinks that Mr. George's doctrine of confiscation "adds a moral wrong to a proposition economically untenable." After the utterance of this neat sentiment, it proceeds to improve the occasion by reminding the House of Lords and its own private adviser Lord Hartington that if, as it thinks, Mr. George's scheme has not the slightest chance of being adopted in this country, the land-owners had better make haste and save what they can by promptly conceding reforms in our land system; for, as the News seems to see and says:—"the time is short; much shorter probably than the upholders of the present order of things imagine." The Times, with much common place bantering, such as—"Mr. George is a man of generous impulses, but his impulses lead him to be generous at other people's expense" hits a legitimate point of debate when it doubts whether Mr. George is right in supposing "that private property in land is a sufficient cause to which poverty and misery can be traced." That is a genuine question. That property in land is not a final or exclusive cause of misery may be taken as certain; that it is a sufficient cause for much and perhaps most of the misery that exists is the real point the Times refers to without attempting an answer; and which Mr. George has at all events given many well-reasoned pages to prove. When we descend further to the Standard, the Post and the Globe, we have only the satisfaction of finding that Mr. George has thrust into the notice of such journals questions they have hitherto been in the habit of simply ignoring. At present they take their own well-worn premises and reason from them to their own entire content. They persist in viewing landed property as in all respects similar to other property, whilst the fact stares them in the face that it is not so, even by English legal technicalities; and even were we to annul the laws of land tenure, transfer and settlement, the fact remains that the private posession of land is the monopoly of a natural agent like air or water, but unlike either of these, it is practically limited in quantity. The best argument from the side we are considering is in the question—"are there no other monopolies but property in land, and where are we to stop short of absolute communism?" The answer is, "there are other monopolies, and if they can be proved, and can be shown to be as glaring as the land monopoly, we shall not stop. At present the economists admit that property in land is a monopoly, and they say also that all monopolies—such as railways and gas and water companies—if they exist at all, should be in the hands of the State and not of individuals. The supporters of land nationalisation contend with justice, that the question now in hand is not Communism nor Socialism, but it is a practical question of the day the Conservative leaders have themselves raised; and Mr. George is perfectly in the right to ridicule as he did in his speech the recent efforts of vestries and private benevolence in regard to the "bitter cry of outcast London" as he ridicules the Irish Land Acts, and for the same reason—their peddling insufficiency. Unhappily, Mr. George, sprung as he probably is from an Anglo-American, semi-methodistical middle-class, lays himself open to ridicule by sentimental declamation and talk of taxing the landlords to give "every widow in the country a hundred a year." Naturally it is replied that under such circumstances it is to be feared the number of widows might inconveniently increase, and that the science of toxicology might advance with frightful strides. Altogether I cannot say that the opening of the campaign against private property in land was brilliant; but Mr. George will improve as a speaker as he gradually understands his British hearers; and there is at all events this quotation from to-day's papers that in regard to the opportunities of his crusade is full of promise and significance:—

"The cotters of Elgol, on the estate of Mr. Macallister of Strathaird, in the parish of Strath, have issued an extraordinary manifesto. Elgol is on the west coast of Skye. Last summer typhus fever broke out in the township, and many deaths resulted from it. This fever, the crofters say, was the result of overcrowding, and in the course of their manifesto they say: "we have our lot in course of Providence cast in a most outlandish part of Skye, where we are deprived of all means to enable us to live with any degree of comfort, while there are hundreds of acres of uncultivated land in the possession of an English gentleman in our neighbourhood, and we are denied one single patch of ground wherein to plant potatoes or sow seed, unless we get it from our neighbours, who are little better than ourselves.... We have hitherto been a law-abiding people, but if our grievances are not redressed, and that very soon, we shall be compelled to take our living out of the hundreds of acres above mentioned. We are all inclined to pay a fair rent for the land which we intend to use."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Things in general were rather 'fiambre' yesterday, but the weather in particular was roaring hot. The Lamothe business has already ceased to interest the public. No wonder ever lasts more than three days in this blessed city of Buenos Aires. The recent tramway bobbery was the only exception to this rule. A faint effort is being made to rouse public dander again against the companies, but it won't do, not even against Lacroze, who was a white-haired boy last week, but is now "in the back of the books."

The German papers say that there is a strong probability of Emperor William abdicating soon in favour of the Crown Prince. The grand old monarch ought certainly to be tired of the cares of State.

The National flag was hoisted on all the National offices and some of the Legations yesterday, in honour of its being the anniversary of Pope Leo's accession.

M. Laurent has a proposal before the Municipality to go into the gas business, with him as manager, and he promises to supply the town with gas at half the present cost. What is wanted now is Electric Light and Wooden Pavement. Gas and stone have played their parts, and will gradually abdicate as time rolls on.

The Tribuna Nacional did not take so long to come round to our opinion about the loans. We are glad to see our views confirmed by such a prominent colleague.

The Revd. M. Spilsbury will celebrate Divine Service at the Estancia Negrette next Sunday at 11 a.m. There will be only evening service in Flores Church. We understand that the Rev. J. Davis M.A. is on his way out from England, to act as curate to the Revd. Mr. Spilsbury.

All sorts of queer people have turned up as relatives of Lamothe since he got into quod, all protesting that they are ready to serve him. This is a new instance of how things go by contraries in the Plate, as in other parts of the world, when a man is in trouble, his relatives are the first to "cut" him and cut him up. On Tuesday a fat old lady, who declared she was his aunt, called on him in prison and gave him a sharp lecture telling him flatly that the two Ws had been his ruin. Lamothe told her to go to a certain place and had her put out by the turnkey. Then in popped a Mr Bohm, who claimed to be a cousin of the prisoner, but Lamothe sent him word that he was "not at home." (No doubt, the poor devil wishes that he was within measurable distance of "dulce domum.") The fun of all this is that Lamothe declares that he has not a single relative of any degree in the country, and, as he is a native of Les Hautes-Pyrenées, this may be true.

The Diario says that there is a pow-wow about the invitations to the Progres Club Carnival balls this year. The Committee have omitted several families who consider themselves 'conocidas,' and there is a terrific how-do-you-do. Many people think that in a properly constituted republic everybody is 'conocido.' and sometimes T W N.

There will be a grand concert in the Flores Theatre to-morrow night, Maestro Panizza directing.

The Leibnitz has brought out 29 cases of bar copper for the Mint to coin into one and two cent pieces. Already these very necessary coins are getting more numerous, and the small change difficulty is slowly disappearing.

The Tribuna Nacional declares that the Lord Mayor is so besieged with letters of recommendation in favour of Tom, Dick and Enrique for lucrative posts with nothing to do, that he is about to ask the Municipality to build a big Asylum where he can lock his tormentors up. Hear! Hear! We second this motion.

A couple of duels were expected to come off yesterday morning between two Senators and two officers of the army. Happily the whole 'parti carrée' were persuaded not to shoot or skiver each other.

The first issue of Mr. Latham's circulars to his subscribers were inadvertently posted with insufficient stamps and receivers had to pay the "multa." For this annoyance Mr Latham requests us to offer the public his regrets.

A "capataz" cleared out some time ago with 20,000 Nats., that were intended for the payment of some of the peons on the Ensenada Port works. He was followed up and captured, but not with all the money.

The latest particulars about Lamothe are, that he was first a waiter in a Rosario "fonda," and then a grocer's assistant in the same town, subsequently blooming into a full-blown wine merchant in this city. Such is Platine life.

Telegrams from San Juan say that politicrl excitement is reviving there, and the people are greatly alarmed. Twenty of those suspected of a hand in the Gomez murder were killed flying from Justice.

The Prensa complains sharply of the removal of the Villarino from the Patagones route. The Loire, it says, does not at all answer the purpose, and the delay, before scarcely bearable, in communication with the frontier, will now be insufferable. Our colleague very pertinently puts the question—For what has she been withdrawn? She was the only one of the fleet that rendered the nation any service, and now the situation must want even this relieving feature.

Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	87½
Cedulas F	85½
National Bank Shares....	128

The Bolsa opened with a downward feeling in all stocks to-day, and National Bank Shares were so heavily beared by the Bear King that prices gave way and dropped to 128 for the end of the month. Towards the close of the ring there was a weak reaction, prices closing at 128½. The sales for the end of the month reached 3,900. In Cedulas we note the new Series F well maintained and prices rather up, but Series E rules wretchedly weak, and no large lots can be sold at present quotations. Series A, an 8 o/o stock, is marked at ½ premium, but if any large lot offered only par could be got. The business in Cedulas to-day was very brief, and the largest transactions were in Series F, which is unusual.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours :—

Cedulas—
For cash A 28,000 at 100½-½
For cash E 10,000 at 87½
For Feb. 29th E 75,000 at 87½-¾
For March 31st E 40,000 at 88½-88
For cash F 99,000 at 85-½
Sales, 252,000
National Bank Shares—
For cash 500 at 128½-128
For Feb. 29th 3,900 at 128½-½-128-½-128 to 128½-½-¾-½
For March 31st 200 at 130-½
Sales, 4,600
National Bonds, 1881, 5 o/o—
For Feb. 21st 1,500 at 75½

At the close of the ring everyone who had a National Bank Share in his pocket hurried off to the Bank to attend the meeting which was held in the back patio. The business was got through with a rapidity which showed the business habits of the crowd; no long speeches, nothing at all about the Lamothe forgeries, and still less about reducing the dividend; many parties attended who would have voted to increase the dividend. We compliment the chairman, Dr. Pacheco, on the easy way in which everything passed off. The Bank was crowded with clients and the shareholders could see with their own eyes what a roaring business the Bank is now doing. We give in another column the full report of the Committee, it explains everything, and could not be more satisfactory.

Telegrams were expected to-day from Genoa announcing the arrival of the Nord America; we suppose they will come up to-morrow.

News is in from Santa Fé that the horses of the agrimensor on the Murietta camps, some 50, have been swept off by the Indians; we have not a line from Mr. Callan, but suppose he is all right. Mr. Woodgate ought to be in London to-morrow or next day.

The sale of 1,750 Treasury Bills, 9 per cent at 102 is reported. We remember when this same stock was sold by the same broker, Mr. Kruls, at 133.

The report by the Municipal chemist on the French wines selling in this market, has astonished us all. It seems the best and purest wine in this market is the Argentine, and now with this report before the public, the consumption of Argentine wines will be naturally increased. At the "Sala de Residentes Estrangeros" they have an Argentine wine they call Mendoza Rouge, which is such excellent wine that nearly all the elder members of the Club take it, and Moreno and Fernandez have a stock of this Mendoza wine, which they sell very cheap. In a couple of years Argentine wines will supply the consumption in this city.

The sale of 2,000 cows "al corte" in the Banda Oriental, for Brazil, is reported. It seems that large sales of cows have been made in the Banda Oriental to Brazilian estancieros.

There was no Senate yesterday to consider the Message of the Governor on the moving out of both Banks to La Plata.

Messrs. Bullrich and Co., have taken the premises alongside their auction Mart, in Calle Alsina. They will now have the largest auction mart in this city, 50 yards front on the street and room for all the stock that can be offered for sale in the River Plate.

The earthworks of the Pergamino Railway are now pushing out to Junin, and those of the Transandine Railway are alsogoing-ahead fast; soon we shall have two Railways to Junin.

Bulrich has now at his place some splendid Lincoln Rams which he wont sell by private sale and will sell by auction on the 5th prox.

One of the greatest properties in all Buenos Aires is now advertized for sale by Bulrich the 3 story house corner Rivadavia and Maipu with Sommers hat shop thrown in; the valuation is 7½ millions, without the aid of the Mortgage Bank there are 37 people in town able for Bulrich and the business.

Good trade bills done at 7 and 7½ per cent, and we hear of one lot of pagarés $150,000 m/n at 6¼.

½ a league of splendid camp in partido of Salto, belonging to the Pacheco testamentaria will be sold in a few days by Bulrich. This land is well known to Irish sheepfarmers as some of the richest and best in this province.

A fine flock of sheep belonging to an Irish sheepfarmer on the Loreto camps has been sold at 39 % al corte, a very high price.

Ebbeke's paper auction passed off well today. Mr. Gowland sells the wrecked cargo hull &c., of the barque British Crown on the 22nd. A good chance for a bargain.

Respecting the Lamothe affair there was nothing new to-day. Of all the publications in the papers about this affair, the farewell salute of the Nacional in French and English, was decidedly the best; there was salt in every line of it, and it reminded us somewhat of the lines published in this paper 20 years ago on the smash-up of De Boot Debutinet, who were also in the wine trade and left nothing but corks and empty bottles behind. We should say that in a literary point of view, the De Boot composition was superior to that of our witty colleague the Nacional, but in "illo tempore" De Boot fairly shook Buenos Aires; nothing that we have since published rivalled that composition.

Exchange rules less buoyant, and we hear of £3,000 passed this morning at 47½; also francs done at 5.02 and 5.03. Also some £5,000 sterling passed at 47⅝, but bills are in demand and the principal brokers say that no francs are to be had at 5.05.

We hear of an offer of a million currency made for an estancia, 1½ league of land, in 9 de Julio, and refused by the owner.

People who have come back from the Pocitos thinking that the hot weather was over are so surprised by the heat in town that they talk of going back to the Oriental.

Several lots in La Plata have been resold at very good profits; they are now selling lots of 600 sq. mts. for 5,000 %, some 15 squares from the Plaza, which seems to us a very high figure.

At afterhours the market ruled very dull. Shares closed at 128⅝ sellers, and Cedulas 87½ sellers; 20,000 A done at afterhours at ½ premium.

The Bolsa Committee ordered the 4,000 pats guarantee of Sr. Santiago to be handed to the liquidator to arrange.

In coal we hear of heavy shipments from England; price, 10 pats., which merely covers.

Merchants and others living at San Jose de Flores complain that the roads about there are paved with dead horses. Where is Mr. Victorica?

The sale of 3,000 salted hides (Podesta) reported to-day at 50 rls.

There is at last a move to start the long-talked-of Bahia Blanca saladero.

In National Bank certificates the following sales:—

60 at 135

Exchange done this afternoon at 47½ and ⅝.

The National Bank Inspecting Committee has reported in favor of an advance of salary to the President of the Bank from 700 m/n to 1000 m/n per mes, and for the Directors from 2,400 to 2,800 m/n per annum. This project of the Committee lent increased interest to the meeting to-day, as on 'Change most of the shareholders were opposed to increasing the salaries to the Directors, although in favor of raising that of the President.

News from Dolores and Balcarce districts is unfavorable, the camp fires continue. The Fortuna de Pena has suffered severely, also San Gregorio, formerly Mr Lezama's; sheep and cattle in that district are offered on every estancia for sale, and we hear of one 'rincon down there where 70,000 sheep 'al corte,' are offered for sale.

The Wexford mutton cargo is now shipped and ready. Mr. Grau from France, who has just arrived from Europe, went out this morning to Campana to see the mutton and the ship. We hope he will be shipping a cargo for his own account shortly.

We congratulate our friends in Lincoln on the turn things have taken out there; Col. Latorre, formerly President of B. Oriental, has given up politics and Government House, and taken to the plough, the cows and the sheep; a veritable River Plate Cincinnatus. Col. Latorre's estancia is well-stocked and will now be managed by the Colonel in person.

It is rumoured that the 'capataz' of the works at Ensenada has bolted with 20,000 pats. money he received to pay the workmen; no wonder that the 'peones' down there struck, since they could not get this wages.

The Nat. Bank in Rosario is shipping to England in one of Lamport & Holts steamers, 85 cases of valuable metals representing 130,000 pats.

News from Paris to-day is to the effect that the money market is much tighter and the rate of interest up.

Several lots of 2nd and 3rd class wools have been sent to deposit, and they say this class of wool is accumulating, but good wools are in good demand and sell as fast as they arrive.

The Vice-President now acting President, has signed 23 leases for Government lands, rented to various parties under the new Nat. Government leasing law.

The Provincial Government, we hear, is going to lease 30 leagues of land near Carhue for ten years.

Freights have an upward tendency, owing to copious arrivals of wools and the moving away of several of the outsiders, or as they are euphoniously called in England 'tramps'. The Castle Hill has secured full cargo for Dunkirk at 15 francs, and 20 francs are now quoted by Phœnician and Porteña. 25 francs are asked for grain from Rosario. The Wexford has sailed from Campana with the following cargo for Antwerp and London :—

600 tons wheat
200 tons linseed
45 bales sheepskins
60 pipes tallow
2,000 bales alfalfa
8,000 frozen sheep

The Canadian took the following cargo:—

For Havre—
259 bales wool
1,271 bags maize
854 bags wheat
1,668 bags linseed
364 bags beans
For Dunkirk—
1,686 bales wool
From Montevideo—
3,500 salted hides
1,200 bales wool

Application was made to-day to the War Minister for an escort to accompany an English expedition across the Southern Andes and with cattle.

From the Plaza Once de Setiembre we have the following:—

133 waggons arrived with produce.
The arrivals were:—
22,000 @ of wool
3,521 bags of wheat
302 bags of maize
150 bales of hay

Increase this year over last 329,961.91, or say 38.25 o/o

The article in this morning's Tribuna Nacional was the great topic of conversation on 'Change. The paper in question is the National Government organ, and hence its remarks on such matters as public loans, &c., carry additional weight, the views expressed being attributed to the Government House and to the Minister. Our colleague most properly says that the state of affairs in Europe in general, and in London in particular, is not such as to justify the Minister of Hacienda to attempt any Argentine loan at present. Views precisely our own, and which we expressed fully a fortnight ago, and which led to much bitter and nonsensical remarks from some of our colleagues, Dr. Plaza shews his good judgment by refraining from making any attempt to launch his loans, as the situation of the London market has in nothing improved, since we first wrote on this subject. The Bank of England rate, although not high, has advanced, it is now 3½, and this time last year it was 5, but there is no longer that plethora of money in the London market, which we noted last year, when short loans on stocks were done at 1 o/o per annum, and some papers stated that money was so superabundant, it was unlendable. New Zealand and Australia took up much of this superabundant money, and now France is in the market for a great loan of one milliard of francs, which will affect all the exchanges in Europe. Moreover there is a new stir put into the markets by the shocking Soudan muddle, troops are being despatched. At all the English arsenals they are working over time, troops are to be brought from India, and the finale of the whole business, it is thought, will be the fall of the liberal Government and the entry of the tories. These facts we announced, and our views on these Argentine loan questions have now been fully corroborated by the National Government organ, the Tribuna Nacional. In the meantime the gigantic works of the Government have to be carried on, and the Minister deserves every praise for not allowing them for one moment to be stopped, the credit of the country was never better, the Custom House receipts are magnificent, and probably what the Finance Minister will do, in the matter of the thirty million loan, is to obtain from some of the great London banking firms whatever advances the Government may require to carry on its works until the loan in question is finally launched, a business not difficult to arrange, owing to the splendid credit of the Republic in Europe.

We have recently called attention in this column to the steady rise in the price of Entre Rios estancia lands. Some of our countrymen have bought lately at advanced prices several leagues of land North of Concordia, but the sale we report now brings the value of the Entre Riano lands on a parity with that of Buenos Aires lands. Mr. McDougall has sold to Mr. Henry Darbyshire half a league of prime camp in the Department of Uruguay for 20,000 pats, which brings the price of those lands up to one million paper dollars per league. Can such things be? A million dollars % for a league of land in Entre Rios seems such an extravagant price that in publishing the sale we feel bound to give the names of buyers and sellers, so that there can be no mistake in the business. Of course, the land in question is the very best, and perhaps adjoining the land of the purchaser, but this does not explain the payment of so high a price for land in a province where but two years ago plenty of good land close to the line of the Eastern Argentine Railway could be bought for 4 and 5,000 pats. per league. Good estancia land whether in Entre Rios, Sta. Fé, or B. Aires must not be considered dear at 20,000 pats. a league, since what with new railways and diligences all these lands are now being brought within easy communication of B. Aires. To-day eight leagues of National land in the 5th Section, that is to say lying between the Colorado and Rio Negro, was bought by an estanciero in Lincoln for 100,000 currency per league, and we suppose the purchaser intends to sell his land at Lincoln, which command a good price, and move with his cows and sheep to his new land which he has bought for sheep. Whatever may be the opinion on the land business we can safely assert that the man who has the money to pay for his land and stock same is sure to come out right, he can laugh at the money market, brokers, bankers, and the rest. In the land business all depends on stocking and settling, and thus converting open camps into good veritable property. Cattle do better on cheap than on dear lands, and every fresh league of camp stocked with cattle is a gain for the country. Entre Riano proprietors can see now how with peace and good seasons their lands advance in value.

Business was very brisk at the Riachuelo yesterday, and favoured by the high tide five ocean steamers entered. The arrivals were:—Toro from Bahia Blanca with 12 passengers and a fair produce cargo; Taraguy from Montevideo with a cargo for Asuncion; Cisne from Asuncion with a produce cargo of yerba and tobacco and some passengers; American barque Protus, consigned to Messrs. J. Bell & Sons; English barque Oneata and American patacho Aya Mane, both consigned to Drysdale & Co; English barque Maggie Dart, consigned to Shaw Bros.; Engl. barque Albuera, consigned to J. Bell & Sons, and 22 coasting vessels from river ports with produce and general cargoes. The departures were:—Italian barque Sole, and 18 craft for river ports with general cargoes. The steamer Taraguy sails to-day for Asuncion and ports. The Toro was unable to find room at the moles to discharge yesterday.

Yesterday a decree was issued ordering that the moment the diana is sounded an officer and 12 men are to take out 20 criminals from the Penitenciaria every day to shove ahead the works in the Palermo Park.

We hope some barraquero will answer the following for us:—

B. Aires, Feb. 19th, 1884.

Dear Sir,

In a recent issue of your paper there appeared a comparison of the relative export of wool from the River Plate and Australia. I would draw your attention to the fact that one bale of the former is equal to nearly three of the latter, and that consequently—unless this has been allowed for—the said statistics are highly misleading.

I remain,
Yours truly,
ARGENTINE.

Our Oriental friends have already commenced to arrive here for Carnival. The first batch, 280 persons, arrived yesterday. We fear our visitors will be sadly disappointed as there are no visible preparations for Carnival, either in public or private. The plain fact of the matter is, that our High-Lifers, most of whom have been to Europe, now vote the buffoonery and immorality of Carnival as low and will have nothing more to with it. Their example will, sooner or later, be followed by the other classes, and the nuisance be abolished, just as we are about to abolish the Lord Mayor's annual nonsense in London, as unfitting for the age we live in.

The Paysandu papers report that a "tropero" is missing, with 15,000 pats. belonging to a saladerista of that Department. Rather a heavy "stick."

Two new newspapers have started in Montevideo. We pity the public. We have 29½ papers to read and inwardly digest every day, but now and then take a good many of them as read.

Talking of Carnaval! We see in an advertisement in another column that the famous Bodega in Calle Cangallo will be open from next Saturday night till Ash Wednesday morning, for the convenience of revellers. The "cuisine" of the Bodega is well up to the mark of any other in town, so no man need want a tip-top supper.

Did you ever? The Prensa says that some ineffable idiot has proposed to the Municipality, as a final settlement of the Tramway Question, that all the lines should be allowed to charge a ten cents fare, on condition of giving thirty per cent. of their receipts towards an Exhibition to be held here in 1886. Our colleague, while publishing this ridiculous proposal, of course laughs it to scorn. We verily believe there are more lunatics at large in Buenos Aires than in any other city of its size under the sun.

The Law in this country is queerish, if not absolutely queer. On Monday the lawyer and attorney who are about to prosecute Lamothe, on the part of the Provincial Bank, had a long interview with him. This is most unfair. How many fatal admissions may they not have wormed out of him! The first thing done in England is to warn an accused person to be careful as to what he says; and the bare idea of allowing the counsel against him to cross-examine him in his prison would raise the whole country.

During an equestrian performance at Gualeguaychu last week a storm arose and blew down the tent in which it was going on. The scene that ensued baffles discription. The shouts of the men, screams of the women, roars of thunder and flashes of lightning reminded everyone present of the Last Day and Hades. After all the fuss and fright, however, it turned out that nobody was killed and only twenty persons slightly injured.

Colonel Latorre, ex-Dictator on the other side of Jordan, has an estancia in Lincoln, and left town on Monday to devote himself to bucolic pursuits, "sub tegmine fagi."

English Dramatic Season

AUGUST, SEPTEMBER, OCTOBER, 1884

THE undeniable success of his recent venture places the Manager, not only in possession of most useful experience and knowledge of the Taste of the Buenos Airean Public, but, further, gives him Confidence for the Future, and enables him to form Plans of far Greater Magnitude than he felt justified in doing when he was but entering upon a field of speculation, with discouraging prophecies from every quarter.

He realizes that the Public wants High-Class Comedies of the 'Byronic' Style, and occasionally a good Spectacular Drama, (such as those lately given at the Opera House) with one or two specimens of the Romantic School of Play, now so much in vogue in London ('Silver King,' 'Lights of London,' 'Youth,' etc); and, further, that the excellence of those works must be guaranted by sound London reputation.

It is worthy of remark that during the past season, those plays having familiar titles, drew larger audiences than even far better productions the names of which were unknown in Buenos Aires.

Experience teaches the Manager to provide good Scenic Display and Lavish Adornment of the Stage for Every Production, and whilst claiming to have expended large sums in the Setting and Appointing of Drawing-Room Comedies during his first season, he now Resolves to Eclipse all Former Efforts, and, indeed, Produce every Play in a manner worthy of the best Theatres in London.

For this purpose he will bring Handsome Furniture and Appointments from the Hoted House of Lyons & Co. of London, and Exquisite Costumes from the most reputed Metropolitan Houses.

The great difficulty which has been encountered to give English plays appropriate setting with Italian opera decorations will now be completely obviated, for, in addition to a good supply of scenery at present being prepared in London, a competent artist will be engaged to paint special scenes for characteristic productions.

'The past guarantees the future' is a motto that the public will allow is perfectly justifiable, for if, amidst the most bewildering difficulties, Mr. Latham was enabled to manage his theatre for three months with uninterrupted success, producing in that time thirty different plays, he is now entitled to hope from the public further confidence for the future, when the advantages of capital, experience and faith in support, will give him facilities for serving the community, which he will turn to the best account.

Agents are even now actively engaged in securing for the management the very latest London successes, and entering into negotiations with several well known artistes, Mr. W. Scouler having left for England with full authority to close engagaments commenced by the agents.

The difficulty in securing a tenor worthy of Buenos Aires (it is a notorios fact that the foreign pobulation of cities is always most critical) will probably retard the production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, but if postponed for a short period the, will be reserved for a very auspicious occasion, viz., the opening of an entirely English Theatre in our midst, (the site for which has already been negotiated), and which Mr. Latham trusts to dedicate to public service during the forthcoming year.

Finally: Aided by the good wishes and friendly concourse of the public at large, and having the hearty cooperation of many wealthy and influential residents, not onely among the English, but also among the French, Belgian and Argentine population, Mr. Latham with perfect confidence, announces the inauguration of his second season for the

Friday, August 1st 1884

SEVEN LADIES AND TEN GENTLEMEN

(Exclusive of working staff and orchestra.)

The manager notes with great satisfaction that very many of the first subscribers have repeated their guarantees for the ensuing season, and begs to inform the general public that he will shortly be prepared to book new subscribers at fifteen per cent. reduction in the price of the thirty performances, former terms holding good to original 'abonados.'

Mr. Latham leaves Buenos Aires on or about the 15th proximo, thus securing ample time in England.

BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER

Used by thousands for making wholesome Bread, Cakes, Flour-Puddings, &c. Sold in 1d & 2d. packets and 6d. & 1s. boxes, by all Storekeepers and Grocers.

Invaluable at the Diggings and in the Bush, also on board Ship, as small loaves of the best Bread or Scones can be made in a few minutes without the aid of Yeast.

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farmhouse bread that I bake! The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."
